Community Health Charities Employees raise money in creative ways

Barnwell Community Health Charities luncheon

Holly Hill employees compete in horseshoes as a fund-raiser.

Clarendon Maintenance employees enjoy a good lunch and raise money at the same time.

Letter To The Editor SCDOT Complimented

Having recently moved into a new residence on Great Circle Drive, I contacted the Highway Department to complete the driveway access. I would like to compliment Mr. Ricky Crider and his road crew, supervised by Mr. George Driggers. The construction was done efficiently and expertly, making a nice entrance from the highway to my driveway. I enjoyed chatting with Mr. Driggers and his crew while they finished the project. Once again, let me say it is a joy to live in a county where people take pride in their work and responsibilities.

Sincerely,
REV. MAX J. KASTER
 St. Matthews

A job well done

2005 Community Health Charities

Field offices kicked off District Seven's Community Health Charities Campaign with carnival games, cookouts, and silent auctions. Through the giving of time and contributions, our counties are supporting life-saving programs and research to prevent premature death and disability.

Appreciation is extended to those contributors for a campaign well done.

100% Orangeburg Maintenance's QMT Inspection

Resident Maintenance Engineer David Brandyburg was congratulated by Asst. State Maintenance Engineer Huley Shumpert and District Engineering Administrator Dean Campbell for receiving 100% on the QMT inspection performed at Orangeburg Maintenance on Feb. 26.

District Maintenance Engineer Jo Ann Woodrum: "I was pleased to participate in the QMT inspection. They passed all areas with a perfect score. This is the first perfect score in the state! The success of the unit is a tribute to every employee. Please join me in congratulating them in their success!"
