The Radio Television Digital News Association of the Carolinas Scholarship: My Career Goals

My double major in Multimedia Journalism and Professional Theater will equip me with the skills and knowledge that I need to create new platforms and venues for people. New digital platforms are the future; this includes social media venues and various formats of information sharing like podcasts, videos, blog posts, slide-sharing, and graphics. My digital venues will be places where the African American narrative is reimaged: positive stories are told, social issues are advocated, and Black theater is promoted. Families and communities will benefit from my creation of more community centers too; ones that teach not only performing arts but also information literacy, which goes beyond technical skills to the content analysis that is needed to evaluate online content like articles and images.

Thus far, I published articles in the college newspaper that validated people who had something to say about important issues. Those publications empowered people by showing them their opinion matters. I also wrote monologues and incorporated theater movement to show people are different, and others will accept you for who you are. Also, summer 2021 I worked as an eBook & Media intern with Scholastic, Inc. This internship was my first professional experience in my major! After graduation, I plan to enroll in The Master of Fine Arts (MFA) program in the Department of Media, Journalism and Film in the School of Communications at Howard University. News articles, podcasts, video clips, monologues, and internship experience have moved me closer to my career goals of becoming a journalist, a script writer, an editor, an actor, a producer, and a filmmaker. The RTDNAC scholarship will provide me with the financial support that I need to continue studying majors that I love!

To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Ms. Jacqueline McClellan, who has requested that I write a letter of recommendation on her behalf. I started working with Jacqueline in 2006 when she was in first grade. In our time working together, she has progressed amazingly in her personal and educational life in not being dissuaded by criticism or pressure. I have coached Jacqueline in a number of academic and nonacademic tasks, all of which she has succeeded. Based on my experiences with Jacqueline, I can say without a doubt that she is one of the most committed and passionate students with who I have had the opportunity to work.

Jacqueline and I discussed her recent decision to pursue a scholarship, and I support her decision and strongly desire for her to take her dedication and skill to the next level. Jacqueline is a serious student, and she has shown the ability to work independently with little to no instruction or supervision. Once Jacqueline sets her mind to mastering something, she works without end to accomplish that goal.

I work with Jacqueline during her volunteering service. Her duties consist of organizing youth programs such as Girl Talk Mentoring Group, After School Tutorial, Reading Workshops, Elite Basketball League, Youth Soccer, and Tee Ball. Jacqueline recognizes the importance of education and good leadership, and she leaves positive influences on our youth in many of our activities. While serving as a volunteer, she works closely with organizations and assists in program development.

She is very independent and eager to make a difference among her peers. I have witnessed Jacqueline, in many occasions, display leadership qualities. She consistently maintains character and controls her integrity.

I believe Jacqueline would make an excellent choice. If you would like further elaboration, feel free to call me.

Sincerely,

Bryant K. McCorkle

Greetings:

I have the pleasure of serving as an instructor to Ms. Jacqueline McClellan, and I have known her for a year. As her instructor, I can truly identify this young lady as an asset to the North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University community. Ms. McClellan excels academically. She consistently produces a great quality of work and exhibits impeccable time management, while participating in a variety of student activities. Jacqueline is driven and disciplined. She possesses high intellect and is extremely organized. She consistently meets all deadlines, and she demonstrates a mastery in both oral and written communications.

In addition to her academic accomplishments, Ms. McClellan is a young lady of service.

She demonstrates compassion in the classroom and readily offers aid to her peers who need assistance. Jacqueline is genuinely interested in helping others and provides service in a consistently positive and helpful manner. She has shown the ability to establish an excellent rapport with many different constituents including students, alumni, administrators, and staff. Ms. McClellan calmly handles the stress of being a student and a leader amongst her peers.

Jacqueline McClellan is a wonderfully responsible young woman with high moral character. She has proven to be a leader and serve as a positive example for her classmates. I think very highly of this young woman, and I look forward to witnessing the wonderful things she will do. I recommend Ms. McClellan without reservation.

Please let me know if you have any further questions about this outstanding young woman.
