Dear Miss Milligan:

Thank you for the letters recently forwarded to the South Carolina Department of Transportation District 5 Office. Your letters of thanks and appreciation for our work during the recent Winter Storms were well received and a welcome change. These letters were very well written and we can tell that a lot of thought and preparation were put into each letter. It was kind of you to recognize the work and sacrifice made by our DOT employees.

Few people are aware of the numerous hours worked, time spent away from families, and the hardship placed on these employees. We were so delighted to receive and read each of these individual hand written letters that we are sharing some of these letters with the rest of our SCDOT family across the state in our agency newsletter, The Connector. I am also forwarding copies of these letters to the local Resident Maintenance Engineer in Horry County so that he can read these to the employees from that area during his next group meeting.

As SCDOT employees, we work very hard and take pride in our jobs to keep our roadways safe for all. It is rare that we receive positive acknowledgement and thanks. Every day we receive complaints and requests, so when we receive a thank you, it means the world to us and makes our day brighter. Thank all of you very much.

We will not forget your act of kindness. Keep up the good work and best wishes for a successful remainder of the school year. We can easily tell from these letters that your class has very intelligent and thoughtful students, and an excellent teacher.

Sincerely yours,

Dennis L. Townsend
District Engineering Administrator
